

AUTO NEGLIGENCE CAN'T BE CURBED WITH STOP WATCH

Men Hear Owners on Question of a Speed Limit for City Streets.

Regulation of street speed for motor-driven vehicles was again discussed by the special committee of the Board of Aldermen to-day, Ralph J. Kelly presiding. C. E. Terry of the Automobile Association, speaking for both organizations, urged that no change in driving cannot be effected by a stop watch. He added that time, place and condition all are involved. If the police enforce the law against motorists the public will be protected. A twenty-mile an hour limit would be a great improvement, while a much greater speed in times of danger might be permitted.

As to the proposition of bringing a stop watch to a dead stop a certain number of feet behind a stalled passenger car it was argued that it might reduce the number of accidents by forcing drivers to stop. The number of accidents had been reduced and a reduction of traffic resulted. Placing responsibility for fast or motor-driven on the owner of a motor vehicle was also discussed. It was argued that if negligence can be traced to an owner he should be held liable. However if presented he would be a nuisance.

Alderman Becker suggested that if a police commissioner were to send a hundred or more motorcycle policemen to chase down all reckless drivers, he would "make the greatest it of his life".

BAD MEAT SELLER FINED.

Charles Hugs, forty-two years old, of 25 New York avenue, Jersey City, butcher at No. 20-24 Lawton avenue, was convicted this afternoon in the court of special sessions of exposing for sale, on Jan. 27, meat unfit for human consumption.

The complaint, made by George A. Wood, a health inspector, regarded 1 pound of pork. Wood's testimony to the condition of the meat and its refrigerating facilities was corroborated by Alfred McLean. Hugs is fined $50.

IF MARY GARDEN GETS CINDER IN HER VOICE DIPPEL IS INSURED

Policy Covers Practically Every Misfortune That Could Come to Opera Songbirds.

There was one emergency which the Chicago-Philadelphia Opera Company overlooked when it insured itself and all its opera stars against the accidents that it might meet on the Southwestern tour. That was a conflict of dates with the New York Giants at Dallas, Tex. The result was that on last Saturday "The Walkers" was presented to a mere handful of auditors, while the bulk of the patriotic citizens of Dallas, deciding that they preferred Thorpe to Tetrazzini, went to the ball grounds.

With this one exception the insurance covers every imaginable misfortune that might befall an opera company. On every occasion that something occurs to prevent a performance at any one of the sixty-four cities in the tour, the company will recover $10,000 from J. S. Hirsch, a New York insurance broker, who evolved the insurance plan. For this protection the opera company pays $24,000.

If the Pullman porter upsets the nerves of the party by serving coffee too early in the morning; if the chorus, fired with a sudden desire to join the Texas militia and cross the Mexican border, mutinies; if Mary Garden finds that she has cinders in her voice—or if any one of a hundred

CHICAGO OPERA COMPANY CAUGHT IN TRAIN WRECK.

Members Shaken Up When Cars
Are Hurled From Rails on Run in Texas.

EL PASO, Tex., March 1.—The first of two special trains on the Texas and Pacific Railroad, carrying the Chicago Grand Opera Company en route to San Francisco, was wrecked early today seventy-five miles east of El Paso. Three Pullman sleepers and one tourist car left the track. Members of the opera company were badly shaken up and four trainmen injured. A broken rail caused the accident.

Collector Look Resigns.
William Look Jr., Collector of the Port and former Secretary to President Roosevelt, to-day forwarded to Washington his resignation. As soon as he is officially notified of its acceptance he will assume his new duties as managing director of all of the Guggenheim companies.

DOES YOUR FACE SAG?

When the facial muscles lose their elasticity the face sags and loses its youthful contour.

BOY SHOT BY NEGROES. RACE RIOT THREATENED.

San Juan Hill and Hell's Kitchen in Eruption After Serious Attack on Street.

The police of the West Sixty-eighth street station made all preparations this afternoon to suppress a race riot they feared might be started by the shooting of George Eldred, a fifteen-year-old white schoolboy of No. 50 West Fifty-eighth street, by a band of five negro boys on West Sixty-first street near West End avenue.

The boy staggered into Roosevelt Hospital in West Fifty-ninth street and asked to be cared for. He said he had walked into a group of negro boys, who had abused each other noisily for a while because they had wondered into him. One of them drew a revolver and shot Eldred in the breast.

An X-ray photograph showed that the bullet was dangerously near vital organs and the boy was put to bed. Many policemen in uniform and plain clothes were sent through San Juan Hill district and Hell's Kitchen to put down any attempt to start fighting. Reports were received that blacks and whites in the mixed tenement population were talking threateningly.

LONGACRE ELECTRIC WINS PLANT AFTER HARD FIGHT.

Public Service Commission Votes
for Permission Sought Five Years in Courts.

The Longacre Electric Light and Power Company to-day won an order instructing attorneys for the Public Service Commission to prepare a certificate approving the construction of a plant for the company. Counsel for the commission was instructed to have this certificate ready to-morrow. The certificate will be granted if the commission lines up tomorrow as it did to-day. After Commissioners Cram and Williams had voted in favor of it, Chairman McCall decided the matter by declaring himself for the proposed order.

The Longacre company probably will next move for permission to issue stocks and bonds. Then it will be in a position to raise five years ago—a position it has sought in the courts to obtain ever since.

The principal reason set forth by the commission in refusing the company stock or bonds was that the company had not obtained the consent of the proper authorities to the construction of its plant.

In 1908 the Long Acre Company applied to the commission for authority to issue $500,000 in bonds and $100,000 in stock. This application was denied. The Appellate Division decided against the commission. The commission subsequently voted to allow the company to issue about $2,000,000 in stock and $2,000,000 in bonds.
